EDUCATOR'S ACHIEVEMENT

Our English faculty Mrs. Roopali Jalota has been honoured with the "Influencer of the Year" award at the INMO Rangoli Women Awards 5.0.

The image features a stylized illustration of a computer monitor and tower PC. The monitor is purple with a white screen, and the tower PC is also purple. To the left of the monitor, there is a green notepad with yellow horizontal lines, two red paper clips, and a purple spiral notebook with the word 'NOTES' written on its cover. A red zigzag line is positioned above the tower PC. The background is white, and the bottom of the image has a red horizontal band.

ALUMNUS ACHIEVEMENT

Our alumnus Ashutosh Bhuradia (Batch 2005) has earned his doctorate from Harvard University, successfully defending his dissertation with great distinction. His professors and advisor have highly praised his research, describing it as impactful and meaningful for society.

They have also commended his diligence, hard work and unwavering focus throughout his academic journey. His research is centered on the economics of education, with a special emphasis on improving access and outcomes for underprivileged communities.

Ashutosh holds the rare distinction of being an alumnus of both Stanford University and Harvard University—two of the world's most prestigious institutions.

Congratulations!
